In India a noble civilization began atleast 3500 years ago. This civilization still survives down to the present day. Long before Greece and Rome were heard of in history the Vedas and Upanishads had been composed. The greatest Buddhist movement which transformed all Asia had its origin and early growth before the age of the grew. Pericles at Anthes. It is no empty phrase therefore to call India the mother among the civilizations of the world Roman and Greek civilizations have passed away. Egypt has perished utterly. But India has not perished.
